

We are happy to invite you to:

edaBarCamp

2¹ Get access to half the truth

05./06. July 2017

Reutlingen University

Robert Bosch Zentrum für Leistungselektronik (rbz)
Reutlingen, Germany

You do research in the area of electronic design automation (EDA) for microelectronic and embedded systems?
You want to present and discuss ideas and results of your ongoing scientific work?

Then come to Reutlingen!

The edaBarCamp offers an open space and is detached from a formal event structure. You are both a member of the program committee and a participant! You propose, lead and contribute to sessions. In the sessions, we will interactively propose, exchange and jointly develop our methodological approaches and innovations. Meeting and discussing on a par with each other, your individual work and interests will benefit from the others.
